

Clifty Drive 2-vehicle crash claims life of Madison man

A two-vehicle crash in the 400 block of Clifty Drive about 6 p.m. yesterday took the life of a Madison man and injured four others. The early investigation from the Indiana State Police-Versailles Crash Reconstruction Team indicated a 2004 Chrysler PT Cruiser driven by Clarence P. Wiseman, 72, of Deputy, pulled northbound onto Clifty Drive from a business on the south side of the roadway. Wiseman's vehicle entered the roadway into the path of a westbound 2005 Cadillac driven by Donald W. Abbott Jr., 37, of Lexington, police said. The front driver's side of Abbott's vehicle struck the front passenger side of Wiseman's vehicle. A passenger in Wiseman's vehicle, D. Keith Hazelwood, 59, of Madison, sustained fatal injuries. He was dead at the scene. Wiseman sustained serious injuries and was flown to the University of Louisville Hospital. Abbott, along with his wife, Christy L. Abbott, 40, and their son Bret Abbott, 10, sustained minor injuries. They were all taken to King's Daughters' Hospital for treatment.

Police said the initial investigation found neither Wiseman nor Hazelwood were properly restrained in the vehicle at the time of the crash. Alcohol and drugs are not suspected to be factors in the crash although toxicology results on both drivers are pending. State police said the investigation is ongoing. ISP was assisted by the Madison Police Department, Jefferson County Sheriff's Department, King's Daughters' Hospital EMS, Madison Fire Department and Jefferson County Coroner's Office. A bald eagle belonging to The Dwight Chamberlain Rehabilitation Center lifts its tongue before an audience of more than 50 people Saturday afternoon at the Clifty Inn.

Up close with the birds of prey

By TRENTON SCROGGINS

Visitors to Clifty Inn Saturday afternoon witnessed four birds of prey, up close and indoors.

The Dwight Chamberlain Rehabilitation Center at Hardy Lake State Park presented its seasonal discussion at Clifty Falls State Park, showing off its falcons and hawks to more than 50 guests in attendance. The grand finale included the introduction of the rehab center's bald eagle to the audience.

The Dwight Chamberlain Rehabilitation Center was founded in the 1980s, working as an animal rehab facility. After 2001, the organization met large cutbacks in state funding, and became almost entirely dependent upon a non-profit group called the Friends of Hardy Lake. After the budget cuts, the rehab facility was forced to cut back its range of services to only working with birds of prey.

Though it is located at Hardy Lake, the rehab facility is not open to the public. Alex Clem, a representative from the rehab center, explained that too much human contact during the rehabilitation process can be dangerous for the animals, as their natural fear of humans keeps them safe from cars, technology, and humans themselves. Clem stressed that the center's "goal is to return all animals to the wild." Yet, not all of the birds fully recover enough to be returned, so the facility holds onto the birds, using them as educational "ambassadors" to the public. When asked if Clem had named any of the birds, he said, "we do not name our birds...these animals are not pets. We do not want the public to see these wild creatures as pets, and there are laws in place to protect them."

Ex-county councilman Armbrecht dies

Former Jefferson County Councilman Gary Armbrecht, 67, of Madison died Saturday, Jan. 5, 2019. After retiring from an almost 40-year career with the Indiana State Board of Accounts, he was elected to serve as a member of the Jefferson County Council in 2014.

Joe Craig, a member of the County Council who served with Armbrecht, said Armbrecht's career experience provided him a wealth of knowledge from the state's point of view.

"He dedicated a lot of his retired time to the council..." Craig said, explaining that he was often balancing budgets and doing behind-the-scenes work to ensure the council would have the information it needed and be on the right path to complete projects.

"He will be missed..." Craig said. "It's a big loss for Jefferson County and the County Council."

Armbrecht served from 2015 until the end of last year. He did not seek re-election in November 2018.

A full obituary on Armbrecht is on Page A5.

Indiana seeks more mental health care for rural counties

Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS — Indiana is trying to attract more mental health care providers to 11 rural eastern counties by helping them pay off their professional loans. The Indiana State Department of Health says a new program is aimed at attracting psychiatrists, alcohol and substance use counselors and practitioners in related disciplines to a federally designated region experiencing high numbers of opioid deaths. The region includes the counties of Blackford, Dearborn, Fayette, Franklin, Grant, Henry, Jay, Randolph, Switzerland, Union and Wayne. The plan calls for 30 awards each year of a four-year grant period. The Health Department doesn't say how large the grants will be but says they will come out of a total repayment pool of $600,000 in state and federal funds. Applications are available online.

Alleged deserter lived in state for 17 years

CLINTON — A man who is believed to have deserted the U.S. Army in 2000 had been living in a small city under a fake name, didn't have a car and worked jobs that paid cash, according to police. Clinton officers discovered Robert Brodbeck, 46, is believed to have deserted the Army 18 years ago after he went to the police station to talk with them about an altercation with a co-worker, The Indianapolis Star reported. Officers became suspicious of Brodbeck when he gave a false name that didn't show up on any police databases, said Larry Keller, the Clinton Police Department's records clerk. Brodbeck eventually gave officers his real name, and they learned he had warrants out for his arrest in Texas and that he's been living under the radar in Clinton for 17 years, Keller said. The city has about 4,800 residents. When he voluntarily came into the Clinton police station, Brodbeck had been working as a dishwasher at an Italian restaurant, Keller said.

Bagmaker Vera Bradley to build orphanage

FORT WAYNE — Fort Wayne-based bagmaker Vera Bradley is teaming up with a supplier in Myanmar to build a new orphanage for 2,500 children in the Asian nation's capital of Yangon. Vera Bradley spokeswoman Holly Ryan told The Journal Gazette the new building will replace an existing orphanage that's structurally unsound. Ryan says Vera Bradley will split costs 50-50 with its Myanmar supplier, where workers assemble and sew Vera Bradley travel bags. The cost of the project isn't determined yet. Ryan says company officials are interviewing contractors and defining the project's scope. She says the orphanage was chosen after Vera Bradley officials toured several facilities to choose the one with the greatest need. The Fort Wayne area is home to hundreds of refugees who have fled persecution and turmoil in Myanmar.

Dogs saved from meat farm adjust to new life

MUNSTER — Five dogs saved from a South Korean dog-meat farm are finding safety through a northwest Indiana animal shelter. The (northwest Indiana) Times reports that the pooches — named Tofu, Bruce, Jewels, Rachel and Jake — are still acclimating to their new surroundings. They were brought to the Munster-based Humane Indiana shelter in July. One of the dogs has been adopted. Another is going to a behavioral training program in Pittsburgh. The remaining three are in foster care to prepare them for domestic life. According to Humane Society International, South Korea is the only Asian country where dogs are regularly farmed as food, though their culinary appeal is dwindling. The group has helped shut down 13 such farms since 2015, aiding farmers as they transition to other types of agriculture.

Kentucky officials collect trees for fish

FRANKFORT — Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources officials are taking donated natural Christmas trees through Jan. 15 to use as fish habitat in lakes. The agency said in a news release there are 39 dropoff locations in 34 counties. Go to <https://fw.ky.gov> and search for "Christmas" to find the nearest dropoff. The department said trees must be free of decorations, including lights, ornaments, tinsel and garland. The trees are bundled to create fish attractors to be submerged in lakes across the state. They provide new cover for all fish and nursery habitat for young fish. They also attract baitfish and algae, providing food for young fish and other organisms.

Hotline now plays 'Old Kentucky Home'

LEXINGTON — Kentucky for Kentucky, a Commonwealth-themed store based in Lexington — has created a hotline for homesick Kentuckians. The number is 1-855-883-8663. After a ring or two, you'll hear a rendition of the song "My Old Kentucky Home." According to Whit Hiler, who partners with the group, there were nearly 36,500 total calls by Dec. 19, with an average call time of 2 minutes 4 seconds. The recording is 2:44. "In total, people have spent 59,846 minutes on the hotline," Hiler said.

Search teams recover body of missing woman

GAMALIEL — Authorities say search teams have found the body of a 19-year-old woman who had been missing since her car was swept off a flooded bridge on New Year's Eve. Kentucky State Police say the body of Leah Carter of Gamaliel was recovered Saturday on a river bank, about five miles from where her car was swept away in Monroe County in southern Kentucky. Police say her body was found by civilian volunteers searching the area of East Fork Creek and Barren River. Police have said authorities received a 911 call on New Year's Eve from Carter, who said she had tried to cross the flooded bridge when her vehicle stalled and was being swept away. Her vehicle was found unoccupied the next day, downstream from where she tried to cross the bridge.

Not responding to messages right away

Dear Annie: Recently, a friend confronted me about something that I didn't think was a big deal: Sometimes I forget to respond to texts for a while, and then I reply and say that I just saw the message. Technically, most of the time, it's a lie; I did see the message, and I just got sidetracked or zoned out or didn't feel like replying until later. But I just say it to try to make the other person feel better or to smooth things over. I'm certainly not trying to be deceitful. My friend who always tells it like it is, God bless her, called me out for this behavior in front of a group of mutual friends. A few laughed and agreed that I do this. It was brought up in a joking manner, but it still ruffled my feathers a bit. Am I really in the wrong here? Is there a more tactful way to handle things when you take a while to respond to someone? — Delayed lying about the reason for not returning a text is wrong, and it insults your friend's intelligence. The next time you take a while to respond to a message, simply apologize (if appropriate) for not getting back to the person sooner, and leave it at that. No flimsy excuses necessary.

Dear Annie: For at least three years now, my neck has hurt on a daily basis. More often than not, it's stiff, and I need to crack it to get some relief. I've heard that changing

Dear Delayed: Not responding to a text message right away is understandable — even healthy, as we shouldn't be beholden to our devices 24/7. But to a better pillow can help with neck pain. But when I went online to see what pillow I should get, I was overwhelmed by dozens of options, all claiming to have five-star reviews. Now I don't know what to do! I'm not sure how to make a choice, considering I'm... — Neck-Deep in Options

Dear Neck-Deep in Options: A new pillow might help, but what you really need is to talk to your doctor. He or she can refer you to a physical therapist who can help you protect your neck long term. You also might want to consider using a standing desk, if you work at a computer, because unless you have perfect posture, sitting at a desk all day can wreak havoc on your neck and back. As for the pillow, perhaps the doctor or physical therapist could advise you on the right kind.

Dear Annie: "Sad in Wisconsin" — the man who wrote that when he and his wife give gifts to his son, daughter-in-law and grandchildren, they never express gratitude — should examine why they are giving gifts in the first place. If I see a beggar on the street, I don't give him money because I expect a thank-you. I do it because he needs a helping hand. When I do something nice for my wife, I do it because she deserves it. Not expecting anything back when we give is a wonderful thing. — No Returns

Dear No Returns: Hear! Hear! May we all aspire toward such selflessness.

CHICKENPOX CAN BE DEADLY FOR THOSE WITH WEAKENED IMMUNE SYSTEMS

Dear Doctor: I recently read that more than 30 students at a school in North Carolina all got chickenpox during an outbreak. Growing up, I got chickenpox, too, before there was a vaccine. Is the vaccine really that necessary for kids? Like I said, I got chickenpox as a kid and turned out fine!

Dear Reader: It's true that most children who develop chickenpox, a highly contagious disease caused by the varicella-zoster virus, go on to make a full recovery. Most often the virus causes an itchy rash that is often accompanied by a fever, headache, and some aches and pains. However, that's not the whole story. First, it's important to note that from 2 to 6 percent of children who become infected with the chickenpox virus go on to develop complications as a result of the illness, some of them serious. These include pneumonia, bacterial infections, infections of the brain or the blood, and can lead to death. It's when you look beyond the individual consequences and consider the community that chickenpox becomes a health threat far more widespread than an individual child stuck at home for a few weeks with a rash and a fever.

Those at risk of grave complications from a case of the chickenpox include infants under 12 months old, who are too young to receive the vaccine and whose immune systems are not yet fully developed. The same goes for the elderly, whose immune systems become less robust as they age. Also at risk are people whose immune systems are compromised, such as someone undergoing cancer treatment or someone who is HIV-positive.

For a pregnant woman, a case of chickenpox prior to her 20th week can result in health complications for her unborn baby, including scars, eye problems, malformed limbs, poor growth, small head size and delayed development. When the virus is contracted in the third trimester, there is a chance of problems with the baby's central nervous system. The risk is small -- just 1 to 2 percent -- but with safe and effective vaccines available, it's unnecessary. Again, it's all about caring for one's wider community.

When it comes to prevention, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends that children get an initial dose of chickenpox vaccine between the ages of 12 and 15 months. This should be followed by a second dose of the vaccine between the ages of 4 and 6 years. For people who are 13 or older and have either never been vaccinated, or have never had chickenpox, the recommendation is two doses of the vaccine, given a minimum of 28 days apart. It's true that, despite receiving the vaccine, some people do go on to contract the disease. When that happens, symptoms are usually milder, meaning there are fewer blisters and often no fever. The illness will also typically be of shorter duration.

Most insurance plans will cover the chickenpox vaccine. If not, the Vaccines for Children Program offers help to individuals who qualify. For more information on this program, go to cdc.gov/features/vfcprogram.

Bidding to the best of three suit fits

By Phillip Alder

In today's deal, North-South have one eight-card fit and two seven-card fits. In which one should they play?

The deal occurred during the 2017 Venice Cup women's world team championship. At the other table, the American pair played in six diamonds, their eight-card fit. The best play for only one diamond loser is to cash the ace first. Based on the write-up by Jian-Jian Wang of College Park, Maryland, I believe the declarer started with low to the jack, which worked when East had the singleton 10, but would not have been so successful if East had had any other singleton.

In the given auction, Wen Fei Wang (North) and Qi Shen reached the best contract, avoiding diamonds by never bidding the suit naturally! One club showed 16-plus points, four diamonds was a control-bid, four no-trump was Roman Key Card Blackwood, five diamonds showed three key cards (two aces and the spade king), and five no-trump asked for side-suit kings. When North jumped to show her solid suit, South did well to correct to seven spades.

Note that seven hearts after a club lead would have needed luck (and would have gotten it with spades 3-3). Seven spades required no such fortune.

This sequence won the Yeh Bros. Best Bid Deal of the Year award from the International Bridge Press Association.

Browns interview Colts DC

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Browns have interviewed Indianapolis defensive coordinator Matt Eberflus, who padded his coaching resume Saturday with an impressive playoff performance.

Eberflus met with Cleveland general manager John Dorsey and other members of the Browns front office one day after his defense bottled up Houston quarterback Deshaun Watson in the Colts' 21-7 wild-card win. The Colts sacked Watson three times, harassed him all game and intercepted him once to advance.

Eberflus is in his first season with the Colts. He spent the past seven as the Cowboys linebackers coach.

The 48-year-old Eberflus, who is from Toledo, Ohio, previously worked with the Browns as their linebackers coach in 2009-10.

Dorsey has now met with six candidates in his first coaching search as Cleveland's GM. The Browns went 7-8-1 this season after becoming the second team in NFL history to go 0-16.

Eberflus is the second defensive coordinator to meet with Dorsey.

Raptors beat Pacers 121-105

TORONTO (AP) — Norman Powell scored a season-high 23 points, Pascal Siakam had 12 points and 10 rebounds, and the Toronto Raptors beat Indiana 121-105 on Sunday night, snapping the Pacers' six-game winning streak.

Serge Ibaka scored 18 points, while Kyle Lowry had 12 points and eight assists after missing the previous six games because of a sore lower back. Lowry played 32 minutes and shot 4 for 10, going 2 for 6 from 3-point range.

Danny Green scored 15 points and Fred VanVleet had 12 as the Raptors returned from a victory in Milwaukee on Saturday to win their fifth straight at home.

Green matched his season high with five 3-pointers and Toronto hit 17 of 33 from long range, one shy of its season best.

It was the fifth time this season the Raptors have faced a team that had won at least five straight games. Toronto is now 3-2 in such encounters, also beating Miami on Dec. 26 and Milwaukee on Saturday.

Bojan Bogdanovic scored 21 points, Domantas Sabonis had 16 points and 11 rebounds, and Victor Oladipo scored 16 points for Indiana. The Pacers have lost five straight and 14 of the past 16 against the Raptors. Thaddeus Young scored 14 points and Darren Collison had 11.

Irish make case for No. 1

ATLANTA (AP) — Jessica Shepard scored 19 points, most on layups, and No. 2 Notre Dame strengthened its case for the top spot in the Top 25 by overpowering Georgia Tech 76-55 on Sunday.

With No. 1 UConn's loss to Baylor on Thursday night, Notre Dame (14-1, 2-0 Atlantic Coast Conference) could claim the top spot in Monday's new poll. UConn gave the Fighting Irish their only loss on Dec. 2.

Notre Dame has won seven straight entering an ACC showdown with No. 3 Louisville Thursday night.

Led by Shepard, Arike Ogunbowale, who had 13 points, and Brianna Turner, who had 11 points, the Fighting Irish outscored the Yellow Jackets 60-20 in the paint.

Elizabeth Balogun led Georgia Tech (11-4, 1-1) with 14 points. Elizabeth Dixon had 12.

Rival pins 1st loss on Pitino

PIRAEUS, Greece (AP) — Rick Pitino's winning streak with Greek club Panathinaikos is over.

After two straight victories in his first European coaching job, Pitino's team was dealt a 79-65 loss on the road Friday to archrival Olympiakos in a game for the Euroleague, Europe's premier club competition.

Olympiakos broke open the game late in the first half with a 10-0 run that extended its lead to 36-21. Olympiakos led by as many as 21 points and Panathinaikos could not get closer than 12.

Olympiakos, Panathinaikos' main domestic rival, is a game taken very seriously indeed by the fans of both sides, arguably a more intense rivalry than anything Pitino experienced with Kentucky and Louisville.

A win would have immediately elevated Pitino to near demi-god status with Panathinaikos' fans. As it is, he still has the excuse of the newcomer at a difficult stretch.

Colts off, running in playoffs 21-7 over Texans

By MICHAEL MAROT
AP Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS — Frank Reich stuck with his old-school philosophy even when the Indianapolis Colts were losing games in September and early October.

The Indianapolis Colts' first-year coach insisted that even in an increasingly pass-happy league a balanced offense would turn them into real AFC contenders.

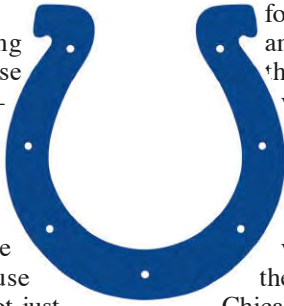

Over the past 11 weeks, the perfect one-two combination has landed plenty of scoring punches, propelling the Colts into an improbable divisional-round matchup at AFC West champion Kansas City.

"To me, it's imposing your will on the defense and what that is, is running when you want to run and throwing when you want to throw and being effective at it," Reich said on a conference call Sunday. "Always use the boxer analogy, it's not just throwing punches wildly, it's landing punches."

Few teams have delivered more big blows since Indy's 1-5 start.

On Saturday, second-year running back Marlon Mack carried 24 times for a career-high 148 yards and one touchdown, leading the Colts (11-6) to a 21-7 victory at Houston. They hurt the league's No. 3 run defense for a playoff franchise-record 200 yards, breaking the previous mark of 191 from their Super Bowl win over Chicago in February 2007.

Mack also broke Zack Crockett's single-game franchise playoff rushing record (147), set in 1995.

And this week, Mack could again become the feature attraction against a defense that finished No. 27 against the run this season.

If all this sounds eerily familiar to longtime Chiefs fans, it's understandable given the previous results.

Egerrin James ran for 125 yards, the third-highest postseason total in franchise history, in a 38-31 victory at Kansas City in January 2004. Joseph Addai rushed for 122 of the Colts' 188 yards, now the third-highest total in franchise history, in a 23-8 wild-card round victory over Kansas City. That win jump-started Indy's title run following the 2006 season.

No. 1 Rebels 13-1 after 69-42 win at Lanesville

By ROB LAFARY
Courier Staff Writer

sports@madisoncourier.com

LANESVILLE — Class 2A No. 1 Southwestern closed out the first quarter on a 12-0 run and never looked back in a 69-42 win at Class 1A No. 11 Lanesville in boys basketball on Saturday night.

The Rebels, 13-1 and winners of four-straight, led by as many as 29 points in the game as Southwestern posted its second win this season over a ranked opponent and first since defeating previously ranked Class 4A No. 9 Jeffersonville on Dec. 15.

"I thought we took care of business," Rebels coach Jerry Bomholt said. "We came down here with a purpose, we accomplished that and overall we had a real nice weekend."

Even with sophomore point guard Foster Mefford on the bench with two fouls in the first half — alongside his brother Hunter Mefford who is still out following surgery — Southwestern navigated through the first half with relative ease.

Southwestern trailed 4-2 with 4:49 left in the first quarter but didn't allow a point the rest of the period and that's when the 12-0 run took place. Tyler

Kramer knocked down the first of two 3-pointers followed by a Matthew Williams bucket and two free throws by Zach Cole.

Kramer ended the quarter with a personal 5-0 spurt and the Rebels led 14-4.

Tripp Dillon's bucket ended the drought for Lanesville to open the second quarter but the period proved to be a near duplicate of the first. Williams knocked down a shot and two free throws to kickstart a 9-0 run that included two points each from Kramer and Cole.

Justin Bailey hit a three and Dillon again scored inside but Kramer drilled his third 3-pointer of the half and brother Austin Kramer slashed through the defense for a bucket, as Southwestern doubled up the Eagles 28-14 going into halftime.

"We had a situation where Foster (Mefford) was on the bench but I thought Isaac Brown came in and gave us some good minutes to get us through the half," Bomholt said. "We handled it well and we did everything we needed to do."

Lanesville (7-5) made a brief run over the first four minutes of the second half to trail 34-24 but Southwestern answered with yet another big run, this time a 12-3 rally that pushed the lead back out to 46-27 by the end of the third quarter.

It was Cole's turn this time to ignite the offense, connecting from the inside while Tyler Kramer scored eight more points and Austin Kramer added a deuce.

"I thought we got a little lax defensively and we let some things go," Bomholt noted of the slow start to the quarter. "It was just some odds and ends things. It was kind of a weird game. We let them get back into it and then we decided we were going to play on the offensive end again."

Southwestern scored 23 points in the final period as the lead stretched

By DAVID CAMPBELL
Courier Staff Writer

CHARLESTOWN — Madison used a much more balanced scoring attack — both in the form of points distribution and method — to roll past Charlestown 76-60 in boys basketball Saturday on the road.

Five different Cubs reached double figures in scoring with senior Cooper Yancey's 26 points leading the way. But Madison also attempted more shots from inside the 3-point arc than from beyond — while still hitting 11 threes — and went to the free-throw line 13 times, nine more than in Friday night's loss to Scottsburg.

The result was an easy win for the Cubs, who returned to their winning ways after a one-game hiccup.

"Last night (against Scottsburg) was a little disappointing; it was one that we could have got," Madison coach Mark McFarland said. "I'm glad we responded tonight. Charlestown did a good job coming back in the third and fourth quarter but our guys did a good job of once again making a shot."

Saturday's win at Charlestown resembled Friday's loss to Scottsburg in several ways. The only difference is that Madison closed out the contest.

Like Friday's game, Madison opened Saturday's contest on fire, jumping out to a 17-13 lead after one quarter and scoring 27 points in the second to open a 44-30 cushion at the break.

But while the Cubs relied almost exclusively on the three-ball against Scottsburg, they were more willing to get closer to the rim on Saturday and that style of play helped when they went ice-cold from the field in the third, again mirroring the game from the night before.

Madison (8-3) managed only a

Nick Center layup through the first six minutes of the third quarter and Charlestown took advantage to climb back into the game and close to within 46-41 with just over two minutes left.

But the Cubs ended the threat thanks to two quick baskets by Mason Welsh, the second after he grabbed his own offensive rebound off a missed 3-pointer, and were never in trouble again. Madison closed the third on a 7-2 run to push the lead back to 12 and then outscored the Pirates by four in the fourth quarter to win going away.

The only drama in the fourth quarter was whether Yancey would reach the 1,000-point mark for his career. The senior needed 32 points coming

sports@madisoncourier.com

Southwestern’s Abby Ralston scored 25 points but it wasn’t enough as the Lady Rebels dropped a 47-41 basketball matchup with Providence at home on Saturday.

Ralston’s point total was her single-season high game but it was still a dozen less than the total posted by Providence’s Natalie Boesing, who hit for 37 points to go with 15 rebounds to lift the Pioneers to the win. The 5-foot-11 junior made 11 field goals and was 15-for-21 at the free-throw line.

Southwestern jumped out to a 12-9 lead early in the game but Providence roared back to take a 21-19 lead at halftime. The Pioneers slowly built on their lead over the final two quarters en route to the win.

Southwestern dipped to 5-14 with the loss and will travel to Switzerland County on Thursday.

Dalton Tingle led the Pacers with 15 points while Coby Chase scored eight and Tyler Konkle added seven

Noah Pflum led the Shiners (4-6) with a game-high 27 points and earned tourney

No. 2 Michigan 15-0 after beating IU 74-63

By LARRY LAGE
AP Sports Writer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — Michigan got Indiana’s best players in foul trouble in the opening minutes and took full advantage, building a cushion it used to stay undefeated.

Charles Matthew scored 16 of his 18 points in the first half to help the second-ranked Wolverines build a double-digit lead and they went on to beat the 21st-ranked Hoosiers 74-63 victory Sunday.

Michigan’s Jordan Poole finished with 18 points, Xavier Simpson scored 12 and freshman reserve Brandon Johns had eight points and eight rebounds.

The Wolverines (15-0, 4-0 Big Ten) are a win away from matching their best start in school history.

“We’re just worried about getting better,” Poole said. “We rarely talk about our record.”

Michigan joined No. 8 Michigan State as the two teams without a Big Ten loss four games into the 20-game conference schedule.

The Hoosiers (12-3, 3-1) had won seven straight since losing at Duke and their chances to extend the streak were hurt because their stars were forced to sit a lot.

Indiana’s Juwan Morgan scored 25 points on 9-of-22 shooting and Romero Langford added 17 points while limited by foul trouble.

“When those two guys aren’t on the floor, we’re a different team offensively and defensively,” Indiana coach Archie Miller said.

When Morgan and Langford went to the bench with two fouls early in the first half, the Wolverines went on a 12-3 run in less than 3 minutes before the pair returned to the floor.

“We set the tone and we got their two big guys in foul trouble,” Michigan coach John Beilein said. “They’re tremendous. They’re really tough to stop and they both sat about 20 minutes.”

Michigan led 44-29 at halftime and didn’t have much trouble keeping a comfortable cushion after halftime in part because Morgan picked up his third and fourth fouls.

“We kind of took them out of their flow,” Poole said.

Miller lamented his team getting off to another poor start. “The beginning of the game, we’re not tough enough,” Miller said. “We take a punch, maybe a few too many and then get up off the ground.”

Langford agreed.

“We’ve been coming back and winning close games,” he said. “Now that’s not going to work for us down the road.”

BIG PICTURE

Indiana: Langford and Morgan have to learn how to avoid getting into foul trouble because of their value to the team. Both went to the bench with two fouls early in the game and Morgan was limited even more in the second half because he had two more fouls while trying to defend shots from the perimeter, decisions that were costly.

“I just have to be smarter,”

Morgan said.

Indiana will have more depth when center De’Ron Davis, who warmed up Sunday, and guard Rob Phinisee return from injuries.

Michigan: The Wolverines usually play just two players off the bench and one of the regular reserves, Isaiah Livers, missed a second straight game with a back injury. Johns may have earned more playing time. He had to play because Livers was out and center Jon Teske and his backup, Austin Davis, were in foul trouble while trying to defend Morgan.

HE SAID IT

The 6-foot Simpson made some running hook shots, scoring in a way undersized guards have to near the lane, according to Beilein.

“Kareem (Abdul-Jabbar) would be proud,” Beilein said.

UP NEXT

Indiana plays at Maryland (12-3, 3-1) on Friday (TV: Live on FS1 at 7 p.m.)

Michigan plays at Illinois (4-11, 0-4) on Thursday.

Madison wrestling goes 3-0 to win own Shadday Memorial

COURIER STAFF REPORT
sports@madisoncourier.com

Madison’s wrestling team scored three easy dual wins to claim the championship of its own Nick Shadday Memorial Invitational Saturday at home.

The Cubs defeated Blue River Valley 60-9, Switzerland County 45-30 and Scottsburg 54-22.

“We had a quick day but saw some good things out of a couple of our kids,” Madison coach Tyson Skinner said. “I was impressed with Jacob (Skirvin) today. He had an excellent match against (Switzerland County’s) Jacob Wolf. Eric Leach is helping us out the best he can. He got a big win for us today with two injured shoulders.”

Skirvin (120/126 pounds) and Leach (195) were two of seven Madison wrestlers who were undefeated on the day with both finishing 3-0. Kelsey Bilz (113), Mason Long (138), Dalton Berry (182) and Dylan Fulton (285) were also 3-0 while Drake Youngblood (170) was 1-0.

Noah Burkhardt (106), Grason Lee (120/126), Luke McCarty (145) and Trenton Stockdale (152) were all 2-1.

Complete results weren’t available for Switzerland County but against Madison, Austin Wolf (126), Aiden Day (132), Dominic Klem (152), Tyler Leiland (160) and Dathan Brown (170) all picked up wins.

Madison’s next match will be the Hoosier Hills Conference Championships on Saturday at Madison. Switzerland travels to Southwestern on Tuesday for a dual meet.

Rebels go 5-0 to sweep Six-Way at Providence

Southwestern’s wrestling team rolled to a 5-0 sweep in the Providence 6-Way Saturday in Clarksville.

The Rebels won all five of their matches by at least 29 points and all 10 grapplers picked up at least four individual wins.

Six wrestlers finished the day undefeated. Cameron Canada (120 pounds), Adam Anderson (145), Mitchell Cline (152) and Kyler Brooks (195) were each 5-0 while Brandon Smith (138) and Mitchell Adock (182) were both 4-0.

Dawson Lichlyter (126), Clifton Hendrickson (132), Brady McLain (160/170) and Logan Birchfield (220) were each 4-1 on the day.

Teamwise, Southwestern defeated Providence 45-6, Jennings County 53-18, New Washington 45-16, New Albany 58-12 and North Bullitt (Ky.) 60-6.

Southwestern hosts Switzerland County on Tuesday for senior night.

in to reach 1,000 career points and torched the Pirates for 21 in the first quarter. But faced against a much tougher defense in the third, Yancey spent most of the second half setting up teammates rather than forcing shots but still finished with a season-high 26 points on 10-of-15 shooting, including 4-of-6 on 3-pointers, while pulling down a game-high eight rebounds.

“We’d like to see Cooper go one whole game one time. It’d be pretty cool to see him go for 40 one time or 50 one time because he’s capable of that,” McFarland said with a smile. “But we didn’t need him to (tonight). It’d be cool to see but we had five guys in double figures and that’s 50 right there.”

Luke Ommen came off the bench to score 13 points for Madison, going a perfect 5-for-5 from the floor but just 1-of-3 on free throws. Nick Center and Welsh scored 11 each and Luke Miller had 10 points. Welsh also had nine assists and four rebounds in a strong overall game.

Overall Madison shot 58 percent from the floor (29-of-50) while going 11-of-21 (53 percent) on 3-point attempts.

“That’s kind of how our offense is designed. We have Cooper with the ball in his hands which is great because he’s electric and he’s fun to watch. In the first half he made every pull-up jumper he shot,” McFarland said. “But our offense is really designed for multiple guys to score from multiple different positions and every coach I talk to before the game says that our offense is really scary to guard because anybody can get 15 in a night. And we saw that tonight.”

Courtland Black led Charlestown with 16 points while Caleb Brown and Bo Braunecker added 13 points each.

Madison returns to the road this Friday when it travels to New Albany for the beginning of a tough three-game stretch against the Bulldogs (5-5), Class 4A No. 3 Floyd Central (9-1) and Class 3A No. 6 Silver Creek (11-1).

out well beyond Lanesville’s reach.

Tyler Kramer’s final points — the last of his five 3-pointers — gave him 25 points on the night and put the Rebels up by 22. Williams dazzled late in the fourth quarter with a trio of 3-pointers to end the night with 21 points.

Perhaps the most impressive stat of the night was the Rebels’ flawless shooting at the free-throw line. Southwestern was a perfect 10-of-10 from the foul stripe just a night after going an identical 10-of-10 against Trimble County.

“We had an entire weekend where we did not miss a free throw,” Bomholt noted. “Last night we probably shot probably 80 percent from the field. I don’t think we shot it quite as well tonight but we shot it really well in the second half.”

Dillon led Lanesville with 17 points and Bailey added 10.
